

Speakers and biographies

Mike Naylor

Title: Getting more out of SkyDemon

Mike Naylor is an instructor and examiner at Andrewsfield. He's held a PPL(A) with SEP and TMG ratings since 2005, and a CPL(A) since 2011, with more than 4500 hours, including over 3300 hours as an instructor. He also holds a Night rating, an IR(R) and IRI rating. Mike's flying started as a glider pilot, an embarrassing number of years ago - UK Bronze C, a Dutch ZVB (glider pilots licence) and a Dutch RPL(A)

NICK GOODWYN CFS MA Dip Psych RAF (Ret)

Title: Pilot Peer Assistance - supporting the health and wellbeing of commercial pilots in the UK'.

Nick Goodwyn is leading, on behalf of the Civil Aviation Authority, the development of the concept of Pilot Peer Assistance and facilitating a national programme (P PAN – Pilot Peer Assistance Networks) for the benefit of all UK commercial pilots in promoting and supporting their wellbeing and health.

Nick has a 36year career as a military and civilian Fast Jet Pilot, Instructor and Examiner. Focused on Flight Operations as well as learning and development, he is a qualified Aircrew, Executive and Business Coach specialising in pilot performance, welfare and personal growth. Additionally his expertise extends to Human Factors, Performance and Crew Resource Management.

As a front line fast jet military pilot, on operations and having flown over 4500 hours (including multi-engine and rotary experience), he was latterly responsible for the delivery of Ab-Initio Human factors training to all Royal Air Force and Royal Navy Pilots. He was also responsible for the cognitive development and performance of military pilots and instructors through a unique Performance Coaching Programme and Human Performance for Instructors Course as well as a military and civilian Airmanship model. Additionally, he undertook bespoke flying training projects as an independent service consultant for defence senior officers. In January 2015, he was seconded to work with the UK CAA and left the RAF in September 2016 to become Director of Elite Performance Training Ltd (Aviation Services), re-joining the CAA in October 2018 to undertake the P PAN project lead role.

Nick has a Postgraduate Diploma in Coaching Psychology and recently was awarded a Masters Degree in Executive and Business Coaching focusing on Pilot Peer Assistance and mental wellbeing.

Additionally, he is a court member and Warden of the Honourable Company of Air Pilots, and was founder Chairman of their Careers and Education Committee. He has been the Secretary of a NATO Human Factors working group as well as acting as Secretary for the Royal Aeronautical Society's Flight Operations Group Committee, where he remains a consultant member.

Fenella Jefferson

Title 1: How to land a great Pilot job.

Title 2: GA Pilot/Flying Instructor in Outback Australia to Pilot Recruitment Consultant in the UK

How often do you come across a Recruitment Consultant who has had a career as a Pilot and Flying Instructor? Not very often we bet. Specialist Pilot Recruitment Consultant, Fenella brings a lot of experience to the GOOSE Pilot Recruitment team, having previously worked as a Commercial Pilot, Flight Instructor and Key Account Manager for over 21 years, in Australia, New Zealand and the UK.

GasCo

Title: Avoiding Infringements

As the leading authority on aviation safety matters GasCo will be presenting on the subject of avoiding infringements, relevant to all pilots (GA and commercial) and instructors.